Join us for a fun Fall evening of videos featuring Janet Foy as she coaches test riding through the levels.

Videos will include:

- Second Level Test 3 - Janet asks both riders in this session to ride the Second Level Test 3 while she gives commentary and scores.
- Third Level Test 3 – Using a demo rider, Janet points out the differences in the new test, including where the flying change happens. While they start with a good shoulder in, Janet helps them with the two half circles at the trot, working through the necessary geometry with lots of tips on how to ride the movement.
- Fourth Level Test 3 - Janet helps the riders with the Schaukel movement (used to be in GP test) with really great insider tips on how to ride it for the best score. Also covers medium canter to collected canter to flying change. Janet explains where to collect and how to ride the change. The canter half circles with no change of lead is the next exercise, with an emphasis on placement of the movement in the arena, hitting centerline, and an uphill, forward flying change at the end.
- PSG - Janet explains that the balance of the horse as they perform the movements makes them able to be competitive at that level. She discusses the amount of collection required at PSG as well as the amount of bend needed for the volte. She offers great advice for riding the half pass and finishing it with engagement.

Janet Foy - is currently an FEI "I" judge, AHSA "S" Dressage Judge and an AHSA Sporthorse "R" Breeding Judge. She has judged at all major shows in the United States including the FEI North American Young Rider Championships, the FEI North American Junior Championships, the USA World Cup League Finals, the FEI North American Championships, Dressage at Devon, USET Festival of Champions and FEI shows in California, Illinois, Arizona, Ohio, New Jersey, New York, Colorado, Florida, Washington, and North Carolina. She has also judged national championships and CDI*** in Guatemala, England, Canada, Poland, Australia and Mexico as well as the FEI World Cup League Finals for the United States, Canada and Australia. In 2004, she was invited to judge both of the USET selection trials that selected the Olympic Team for Athens, and in 2006 she judged at the WEG Selection Trials for the United States. She has passed her FEI Exam to be a Young Horse Judge.

As a rider, Janet has won her USDF Bronze, Silver and Gold Medals and gives clinics throughout the United States. She writes articles for various horse magazines and was involved in producing and writing the scripts as well as doing the voice overs for several USDF judges training videos and USDF On The Levels.

She is a former member of the USDF Executive Board, the USA Equestrian Board of Directors, a current member of the federation Dressage Committee and the International High Performance Dressage Committee. She is also on the USDF "L" Faculty and instructs federation judges training programs throughout the United States for dressage and sporthorse breeding.

This is a potluck event, so please bring something to share.
